

Official Statement – Norwich & Central Norfolk Mind 14th January 2015

Kevin Long, Chair of Trustees for Norwich & Central Norfolk Mind, said:

“Norwich Mind works in partnership with many organisations, including the NSFT, as a critical friend and a co-deliverer of services. We have provided feedback on suggested changes to mental health services, and our primary concern is always the needs of service users in Central Norfolk. We would never support or endorse cuts to mental health funding.”

“My fellow trustees and I have been saddened by allegations made on social media sites about the CEO of our organisation.”

“We have investigated these allegations and are satisfied that they are not accurate. At all times our CEO has acted as a champion for mental health services in the local area and any conflicts of interest have always been declared where appropriate to do so. She has the full support of the Board of Trustees.
